Your application for financial aid was late for the 2011-2012 academic year. Due to the current economic conditions in the United States, we anticipated a greater than normal demand for our limited financial aid funds and you ran the serious risk of not receiving assistance.

The deadline for the 2012-2013 academic year is March 2, 2012 for the FAFSA and Occidental College Supplemental Forms. The deadline for all supporting documents including you and your parents' 2011 W-2s and federal tax returns is April 19, 2012. If there is any reason you cannot meet this deadline, you must contact the Financial Aid Office before March 2, 2012.

It is important that all returning students apply for financial aid for the new academic year by the established deadlines. These deadlines allow the Financial Aid Office to have sufficient time to analyze and award students for the new year, and to project the use of limited institutional scholarships. They also allow us to know how much money we have available to meet the needs of our families as their financial circumstances change. Occidental College is unable to guarantee need-based grants and scholarships to students who miss these important deadlines.

Failure to meet the established deadlines for 2012-2013 will result in the loss of all institutional aid.

Your signature below verifies that you understand the consequences of a late application for 2012-2013.
