

Acknowledgements

We extend our gratitude to many who helped this report come to fruition. This publication would not be possible without the contributions of farm to school practitioners and evaluators from across the country. Moira Beery, Vanessa Zajfen, Debra Eschmeyer, Mark Vallianatos, Amanda Shaffer and Bob Gottlieb from the Center for Food & Justice, UEPI, Occidental College provided feedback and edited earlier versions of this publication. Gail Feenstra and Jeri Ohmart from the Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education Program, University of California, Davis provided input toward the development of this resource, and we are thankful for their guidance. Amanda Shaffer and Ben Nyberg designed the layout for the publication, making the information more accessible to readers.

Funding for this project came from the following sources:

(a) Community Food Projects Program of the USDA Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service, grant number 2004-33800-25065 “National Farm to School Training and Technical Assistance Project.”

(b) The W.K. Kellogg Foundation via grants P3000982 and P3004209 supporting the planning and establishment of a National Farm to School Network.